Letter from the LTG

Hey Corgis

I want to start off by giving a huge Corgi hug to all of the people who attended our D05 Summer Olympics! Seeing you all face off in the spirit battle was just a little taste of what Fall Rally is going to be like! With the school year starting I'm so excited to see us all in action. Remember to encourage your friends to join your school's Key Club and make sure to attend the next DCM with D05S! I hope to see you all there!

Sincerely,

Aarie Modi

July DCM (Gianna Ummuna, Clovis North)

I was invited to the Love Island villa by Nathan Nguyen and knew this DO5N July DCM was going to be exciting with him hosting the event. It was so much fun finding the crowned couple of the villa by playing a bunch of different games and creating bookmarks for the local library. Additionally to cool off from the sweltering heat, we had an exhilarating water fight with water balloons and water guns. By far the best part of the DCM was watching multiple members attempt to go trash bagging and failing pretty badly. I greatly enjoyed being a part of this Key Club villa and can't wait for more DCMs to come!

July DCM (Saphira Seng, Clovis North)

At the July DCM we had lots of fun creating bookmarks and drawing cute and motivating designs on them as our service project before we had our icebreakers and games. Since our DCM was love island themed we tried to find "couples" (something in common with one another) within the group in order to pass to the next round. Then we were able to play with water guns and water balloons to cool down from the hot weather.

July DCM (Nathan Nguyen, Liberty)

Elyse and I hosted the July DCM for a change! It was a fun way to start off the term. We made bookmarks for local libraries, ate some pizza, and played some love island themed games! Congratulations to Adam and Sapphira for winning the game! I hope members had an amazing time and would like to come to more DCMs.

Thank you to everyone who took pictures at events and submitted their Articles and Visuals! If you would like a chance to be featured in upcoming newsletters, make sure to take pictures at events and fill out the Articles and Visuals form that your editors give you!
